Stewardship Thought...

Genesis 1:28-30—“God blessed them and said to them, ‘Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the earth and subdue it. Rule over the fish of the sea and the birds of the air and over every living creature that moves on the ground.’ ... ‘I give you every seed-bearing plant on the face of the whole earth and every tree that has fruit with seed in it. They will be yours for food. And to all the beasts over the earth and all the birds of the air and all the creatures that move on the ground—everything that has the breath of life in it—I give every green plant for food.’ And it was so.”

When God created people, He had already provided for their every need. God put people in charge of the world to manage it for Him. We are also stewards of the gospel; giving to preach the gospel is a part of our management responsibility.

Devotional Thought From the Pastor...

Knowing and Loving Others

2 Corinthians 2:4, “I wrote you . . . to let you know the depth of my love for you.”

Hippocrates (ca. 460–375 BC) brought medicine out of the realm of the superstitious and into the light of testing and observation. But he didn’t lose sight of the patient’s humanity. “It is far more important to know what person the disease has,” he said, “than what disease the person has.”

The apostle Paul cared for a church with multiple problems, yet he saw the humanity of each member—including a man who’d committed a sin “that even pagans do not tolerate” (1 Corinthians 5:1). Paul dealt strongly with the “disease,” and the man repented. Now, as he wrote another letter to the church in Corinth, Paul had affirming instructions for all of them. He recognized that this man’s sin had affected everyone: “He has grieved all of you to some extent,” he said (2 Corinthians 2:5). But since the man had turned from his sin, Paul said, “Reaffirm your love for him” (v. 8).

His motivation was clear: “I wrote you out of great distress and anguish of heart and with many tears, not to grieve you but to let you know the depth of my love for you” (v. 4). He knew them all. And he loved them.

Sin affects us all. Behind each sin is a human being. When we’ve been wronged, it may be difficult to work toward restoration, yet that’s what God calls us to do. Know the person. Then, in Christ’s strength, love them.

Dear Friends,

As a nation our sins are so great. We have increasingly turned our backs on God and His commands, embracing godless secularism. We need to ask His forgiveness and seek His face. Pray for our leaders, and pray that God would bring calm to our streets. Ask God to use His Church to be His instruments of peace in this time of great uncertainty. Let's humble ourselves. Let's give God the glory for this great nation and thank Him for His hand of blessing, protection, and mercy.

Sincerely,

Franklin Graham
President, Samaritan's Purse

Friends,

As we move into a new year, we know opportunities to serve will continue to arise. Disasters of all kinds can strike without warning, but we also know the strength of a body united in Christ. When each of us offers our gifts, our time and our compassion, God weaves it together into something powerful –help, hope and healing for those who need it most.

Right now, churches in Uganda are exploding with growth as a result of Texans on Mission Water Impact efforts. Each time we start a Bible study in a community, another one starts. They are hungry for the Word of God and excited to share the Gospel with their friends, neighbors and villages. We have a critical need for people to help lead more pastors in Uganda.

Whatever 2026 brings, my prayer is that we stay rooted in Christ and ready for His work. Thank you for being an essential part of Texans on Mission. We look forward to continuing to serve with you in the year ahead.

Today's Scripture

Matthew 10:22—“You will be hated by everyone because of me, but the one who stands firm to the end will be saved.”

A Majestic Commitment

*1 Peter 2:9, Luke 14:25-33,
Revelation 2:8-10, Matthew 10:16-22*

Commitment

- Since commitment can be hard, we should be careful to what we commit ourselves.
- The Christian life is a life of commitment.
- Understanding Christian commitment requires understanding what the Bible has to say about the Christian life.
- There is not a single verse in the Scriptures that we can study and say, "This is what Christian commitment means."

Discipleship

- The Christian life is a commitment to being Jesus' disciple.
- Discipleship involves discipline and structure.
- Jesus' call is always a call to discipleship.
- Jesus' disciples are granted things that no one else is.

Faithfulness

- Faithfulness is about a life of faith and keeping the Faith.
- Faithfulness is about staying true to the teachings of the Word of God.
- We live the Christian life because we believe, and not because we are under some sort of obligation.

- The rewards of the Kingdom are given to those who are faithful.

Endurance

- Endurance means that over the course of our Christian walk, we have developed staying power.
- The idea of "endurance" in the New Testament is that we stay committed when everyone else turns back.
- Endurance means you stay, you last, and you endure in it all and through it all.

Conclusion

- Those who endure will be saved in the end.
- Christian commitment means endurance.
- Commitment to Christ and His Kingdom is a commitment that is revealed in our discipleship, our faithfulness, and our endurance.
