Stewardship Thought...

Matthew 4:2-4—“After fasting forty days and forty nights, he [Jesus] was hungry. The tempter came to him and said, ‘If you are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread.’ Jesus answered, ‘It is written: Man does not live on bread alone, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God.’”

“Man shall not live by bread alone” is among the first of many teachings Jesus gave us about relating to material things. The importance of wealth and possessions often influences a person’s desire to give to God through the church.

Devotional Thought From the Pastor...

Who Is My Neighbor?

Luke 10:37, “Go and do likewise.”

From her hospital bed, Marie Coble lit up when she saw the delivery driver whose help had likely saved her life. She’d fallen in her driveway and hit her head, causing a brain bleed. Seeing her injury, Raheem Cooper helped her while calling paramedics. Invited by family to visit her in the hospital, Raheem often brings sweet treats she enjoys to assist her recovery.

Their story brings to mind the parable of the Good Samaritan. The parable is Jesus’ reply to an expert’s question on what he must do to inherit eternal life. Do “what is written in the law,” Jesus said (Luke 10:26), including “love your neighbor as yourself” (v. 27). But the expert persisted, asking, “Who is my neighbor?” (v. 29).

Christ’s answer describes a man attacked by robbers, left half dead, and then ignored by two people—a priest and a Levite—who passed him by. “But a Samaritan . . . took pity on him,” “bandaged his wounds, . . . and took care of him” (vv. 33-34). Seeing the hurting man in need, the Samaritan’s help was active, urgent, and without bias—looking past race or creed to assist someone he could’ve ignored.

Thus, Jesus asked, “Which of these three was a neighbor to the man?” “The one who had mercy on him,” the expert said. Said Jesus, “Go and do likewise” (vv. 36-37). In Christ, we too can find the compassion to help a hurting person instead of passing by. It’s a lesson for all in sharing Jesus’ love.

Today's Scripture

1 Peter 1:15—"But just as He who called you is holy, so be holy in all you do."

Dear Grace Fellowship,

If you have been watching the news recently, you have likely seen the headlines coming out of Venezuela. The political situation is shifting rapidly, and with it comes a wave of uncertainty for millions of families.

It is a stark reminder of a truth we know well: Governments come and go. Regimes rise and fall. But the Church remains.

For years, long before the current headlines, Southern Baptists have been on the ground on the Venezuelan border helping meet the physical and spiritual needs of those fleeing their home country, and they are still there today.

I was recently looking back at this video from a few years ago, when IMB President Paul Chitwood traveled to the border of Colombia and Venezuela. You can watch it here: <https://vimeo.com/335050649?fb=pl&fe=sh>.

I wanted to share it with you because it's a reminder of the importance of consistent missionary presence in hard places. At the IMB we don't just send missionaries, but we create the support and structures that help them stay on the field for the long haul. It is because of the prayers and generosity from everyday people that the IMB can send and keep missionaries in challenging places like these.

Would you take a moment today to pray for our missionaries currently on the ground? Pray that God would continue to strengthen them in their work!

Thank you for your partnership in the gospel.

In Christ,
