

Don't Miss the Wedding

Matthew 25:1-13, Revelation 19:6-8, Romans 8:9-11, Luke 11:13

Bring Your Lamp And Join The Bridal Party

- Connect with the church as you wait for the Bridegroom's coming.
- Associate with Christ's bride, the body of believers, as you wait for Jesus' return.
- Find your way home by staying close to your church.
- If you want to participate in the great wedding feast to come, bring your lamp and join the bridal party.
- Invite God's Spirit to live within you so He can power your witness.

Bring Some Oil So It Can Fuel Your Light

- Torches were an essential part of the wedding procession, because they lit the way from the bride's home to the groom's house.
- The foolish bridesmaids were locked out of the wedding festivities because they lacked the oil to keep their lamps burning, so the groom considered them imposters.
- It is not enough just to belong to a local church; you must also belong to Jesus Christ Himself.
- The Holy Spirit is the oil which lights your life, so it shines brightly as a genuine testimony that you belong to Christ.
- No sermon can change your life; only God's Spirit can.

Conclusion

A globe of the Earth is centered in the background, appearing cracked and broken. The globe is set against a dark blue, almost black, background with some faint, glowing orange and yellow streaks, suggesting a fiery or apocalyptic atmosphere. The globe's surface is covered in a network of red and orange cracks, particularly prominent over the Americas and Europe.

- Look forward to Christ's return at a day or hour you do not know.
- We wait for Jesus, who has delayed His coming now for over 2,000 years, but there is coming a day when our waiting will pay off.
- We don't know the day, but we do know Jesus is coming any day.
